Call	ESF-2022-SOC-INNOV Social innovations for a fair green and digital transition
Deadline	2/08
Budget range and Duration	€1M. 90% reimbursement. 24M Partners: non-profit organisations (private or public), public authorities (national, regional, local), universities, educational institutions, research centres or companies be social partner organisations at European, national or regional level
Why. Needs assessment	As set out in the European Pillar of Social Rights ( EPSR ) Action Plan, including notably in relation to principles 1, 4, 5, 8, 12, 17 and 20, deep transformations such as climate change, environmental challenges and digitalisation are fast changing our daily lives and are putting Europe's social fabric to a test. Improving and adapting the EU's 'social rulebook' is at the heart of Europe's response to these changes, in accordance with the objectives of the European Green Deal and the Digital Agenda. This includes fostering an economy that works for people; investing in education and training, enhancing skills and equipping people for new green and digital jobs; promoting social progress and strengthening social protection; and promoting just transitions and ensuring solidarity between generations, leaving no one behind and providing access to essential services for all. Social innovation and social acceptance are key elements of a successful transformation

Topic Outcome (contribute to the following)	call aims to develop and test integrated and inclusive social innovation approaches – in schools or training centres, at work or in local communities, or other relevant environments - to foster just green and digital transitions, by:
	identifying and addressing (re-/up-)skilling and (re-)training needs stemming from new, green or digital products, services or technologies	KER4 will contribute to this outcome in the social economy
	fostering social acceptance and/or behavioural changes for more sustainable business models, consumption patterns and/or modes of transport;	KER 2 and KER3 will include this as a target in the calls for innovation and the resulting projects will be usable by others after the end of the project developing sustainability pathways and transformation tools for social economy actors;	KER4, KER1 and KER2 will help social economy actors make the double transition in a sustainable way, using the tools created in KER2
	tailor solutions to the particular contexts starting from general models, such as the City Doughnut or macro level climate adaptation solutions, to other, business or local environments	KER2 and KER3 will include this as a target in the calls for innovation and the resulting projects will be usable by others after the end of the project promoting the implementation of the EPSR principle 20 (Access to essential services). Essential services, including energy, mobility and digital communications, in the context of the green and digital transitions	KER1 and KER4 will help social innovators get access and support the population have access to essential services, like digital communications and financial services
Destination Impacts (credible pathway to contributing to the following)	Improved knowledge and/or tested impact of social innovation actions that can support fair green and digital transitions	Other social innovators can use KER1 and KER4
	Raised awareness of the opportunities and challenges related to the green and digital transitions and contributions to their social acceptance	KER2 and KER3 will contribute to this, even after the project
	Greater uptake of new green and digital technologies especially by the social groups specifically targeted via this call	KER2 and KER3 will be used by other organizations in the future
	Development of new business and/or consumption models, incl. self consumption and other community-based models	KER2 and KER3 will be used by other organizations in the future
	Increased expertise, skills and employability in the circular and green economy	KER4
	Increased expertise, skills and employability in the digital economy	KER4
	Increased synergies between new green and digital technologies and social participation	KER2
	Improved availability and uptake of alternative sustainable forms of mobility
Engagement of different social groups with local, regional and national authorities to ensure the inclusiveness and (perceived) fairness of the twin transitions.	KER2 and KER3

The foreseen results include:

Greater uptake of new green and digital technologies

New trainings to endow European citizens to make the most out the green and digital transitions

Increase social acceptance and ownership for fairer and more sustainable business models

Develop transformation tools for social economy actors

Engage with local, regional, national authorities, as well as social partners and civil society at large to maximise the impact
